VOL. XXIII NO. 1

MACDONALD COLLEGE

Friday, Sept. 30, 1960

Wednesday afternoon M. René Benoit won the Imperial Esso Trophy as the grand champion plowman in the Quebec Provincial Plowing Match held on the college grounds. M. Benoit is shown being presented with the trophy.

Visitors

Yesterday, Macdonald College paid host, for a few hours, to a group of visiting Czechoslovakian Agricultural experts, led by the vice-minister of Agriculture for Czechoslovakia. They arrived in Canada Wednesday, for an extended tour of our country, studying Agricultural research and development here with a view to its application in their country. The group of six consists of experts in the fields of Maize production, Agricultural Economics and Engineering, Animal Husbandry and an Organizer of Production.

After being shown around the college by Profs. Stepler and Macdonald, they will head for Ottawa, the next stop on their itinerary.

McGILL STUDENTS LOST

Little hope is held for two McGill post-grads, missing in the barren wilds of Northern Québec. Brian Hayward and André Grenier, doing research work in the sub-Arctic region of the province, have been unaccounted for at least a month. The finding of their canoes and belongings scattered along the shore of the Kurak River indicates that they probably capsized, and drowned in the rough waters. Extensive search has been carried out, but to no end. They are the second pair of McGill students to become missing under similar circumstances this Summer.

Typist Wanted

Applications are invited for the position of typist for the 1961 Macdonald College Royal.

Minimum salary $85.00. Adjustments made for additional remuneration if warranted.

Interested applicants write or see... Grant Ketcheson, Secretary.

Calling all would-be Actors and Actresses...

Skit night has been scheduled for this coming Wednesday, October 5. Skits of five to six minutes in length, preferably of a humorous nature, are to be presented by each class. Class representatives of the Lit & Deb Society are asked to meet their classes after a lecture to elect producers and directors to be responsible for their respective skits.

Skits should be chosen to include as many as possible. Class participation is essential to make the night worthwhile. Originality is desired, however should no "budding geniuses" emerge, skits may be found in the college library. Class reps should see Larry Dutton about Props, make-up, etc., which will be provided by the Lit and Deb. Each class is responsible for its own costumes.

Performances will be judged by a panel of three non-student members. Points awarded to the winners will go towards the Judy Burger Trophy, won at the end of the year by the class having the most points in various activities.

Plans must get underway NOW... you have only five days. Watch the notice boards for further information.

Admission is free. Everyone is invited to come to the Assembly Hall at 7:00pm on Wednesday for a guaranteed two hours of hilarity.

Newman Club

Another season is well underway for the Newman Club. The first meeting was held last Thursday and Father MacDonald, Chaplain of the Newman Club, gave a talk on the purpose of the Newman Club. A list of activities for the coming year was outlined. Coming events—McGill-Macdonald Newman Club Outing Day. Mass will be held in the Assembly Hall, at 11:00 a.m., Sunday, October 2. After Mass, the students will be hiking to the Morgan Arboretum for a picnic lunch sponsored by the McGill Newman Club. After lunch, a game of baseball will be played and other sports events will take place. Later in the evening, a weiner roast is scheduled by the lake in back of the tennis courts. All Newmanites are urged to attend.

Our next discussion meeting is scheduled for Thursday, October 6. Topic: "The Christian Attitude Towards Racial Discrimination." Everyone is welcome. October 15 is Retreat weekend.

From McGill Newman Club, comes the news of Fall Frolic Dance at McGill Union Ballroom, Friday, September 30, at 8:30 p.m. (75c). Several of the Macdonald Newmanites, last week, attended McGill's Sherry Party at Newman Center. It was an excellent party and we can only repay them for their wonderful hospitality by turning out in full force Sunday, October 2nd.

For The Teacher Only

Shh! now we don't want this story to get past you, but we simply must tell it. It seems that today is the last day for ten of you to put your heads together to nominate a president, 2nd vice-president, secretary, and treasurer to sit in on the Student Teachers Society meetings. Mind you, this is not the case of a headless Society, but of the annual election. After all, someone must officiate at the get-togethers. So remember now, not a word about this to anyone — not even to your inner conscience—and just keep in mind that the voting takes place on October 11. Shh!

Champion plowmen from at least six provinces converged on Montréal Island and in more particular Macdonald College, this past week, to compete for trophies, prize money and to decide the Québec and Canadian plowing championships. To be selected is the team of two Canadian plowmen, who will represent Canada, next Fall, at the World Plowing Match, to be held near Paris, France.

British Columbia, site of the 1960 Provincial Championships, is represented by a team of two as are Manitoba, Ontario and each of the Maritime Provinces. The Québec team was chosen on Wednesday at the Provincial Finals, held on the college grounds.

Rules of the Plowing Matches held the past 3 days, both for the Provincial and the Canadian Championships, are the same used at the World Plowing Matches, thus assuring uniformity in this ancient art. In last year's World Match, at Northern Ireland, our team placed 2nd and 3rd. This year, the competition is in Italy and our team, of Bob Timbers, from Ontario, and Allen Hammond, of Lachute, have high hopes, as both of them have competed in previous World Matches.

The Macdonald College Farm prepared special parking space for the spectators and participants. Several dozen farm equipment firms have static displays and conducted tours of the college and the Morgan Arboretum are available.

Infirmary Staff

New to everyone on campus this Fall, along with other changes and additions, will be the two nurses of the Infirmary Staff. Miss Marion MacMillan (left), a graduate of Montréal General Hospital, is in charge and is very ably assisted by Miss Helen Baxter (right).

Miss MacMillan has been connected with the medical profession all her life, her father being a professor in Medicine at McGill.

Miss Baxter has combined a desire to see the country first hand with her nursing training. She comes to us from Calgary, but is originally from the Maritimes.

EDITORIALS..... SUPPLEMENTALS

The topic of major importance on this campus during the last few weeks, besides the pretty young freshettes, was the Agricultural Faculty's apparent stiffening up of academic standards. Wild rumours were flying about, containing some truth but mixed with a great deal of suppositions. In order to clarify some of these facts, Dr. Dion was interviewed to find the Faculty's position.

Perhaps the first point to be cleared up, is that these are not new regulations. They have been in the red Calendar for a number of years but have not always been enforced rigidly in the past. The most unfortunate part about it was the fact that the students did not know until registration day that the rules were to be enforced with less sympathy for failures. Following an old but foolish precedence, many students placed too little importance on the supplemental exams, only to find that they had deprived themselves of the opportunity to participate actively in any student activity.

Why, you may ask, has the Committee on Standings suddenly decided to clamp down? Perhaps it would be a good idea to look at the philosophy behind supps. There is no real obligation on the staff's part to allow us to write supps. We received our chance to prove ourselves in the finals in the spring. In fact, some faculties of many Universities have dropped supps altogether. We need look no further than McGill and U. of T. Actually supps are merely a means of redeeming an accidental lapse, due perhaps to illness, an off day, or other extenuating circumstances. The staff does not wish to work hardship on anyone but at the same time they do not wish to be too lax or to be taken advantage of.

It is felt that if a student fails to redeem himself after a second attempt then, in order to continue, he must be protected from himself and forbidden to participate in activities which might keep him from passing the course the next time. Despite some opinions to the contrary, this is not an economical winter resort. We are supposed to be here to enlarge our scope of knowledge, both in and out of the classroom. The problem is to achieve a proper balance of each part.

Another point — suppose a conditioned student fails that subject, what is his position? He must clear this subject before re-registering. What if this student fails another course but for the 1st time? The faculty will review his case with a view to recommending his withdrawal from college.

From this you can see that things are not likely to get easier. The enforcement of these regulations has been postponed until September but you can be sure that there will be no further extenuations. Actually, the most important thing to keep on mind is to properly allot your time, with an eye to the future.

Do you like to write or perhaps to draw. If so we can use you on the Failt-Ye staff. It is very difficult for a small group of people to put out a paper truly representative of the whole campus without the co-operation of all students. So drop any ideas or articles in the little green Failt-Ye box in front of the library. The services of all you typists would be appreciated a great also.

JOE'S

A place that will become very familiar to you in your 1, 2 or 4-year stay within the Clan is the "Canada Hotel," or, as it is more commonly known, "Joe's." This is the local establishment, and the natural habitat of all Aggies.

Here, you will spend many an enjoyable evening in the pleasant atmosphere of smoke, loud chatter and clinking of bottles and glasses.

There is a nightly floor-show, which, by the way, is very good entertainment, with an M.C. who is very dear to the college crowd — Larry Day.

The orchestra is top-notch and the dance floor is large enough to dance on, which is a novelty for places of this type.

Besides all this, Joe's also has an upstairs dining room where you can get the best meal in town very reasonably. Try it when you get tired of residence meals.

The situation is perfect, right on the river, and, in the Spring, it is a favourite pastime of all students to "go to Joe's" in the afternoon, quaff a few ales and watch the ice go out.

To you all, may we wish a pleasant stay at Mac and keep up the good relations between the college and Joe's. And, when you make your first trip down there, remember to have one for me.

various classes participating in student activities. With two teachers teams in athletics, this will at least clear up the problem for MAA.

Some people have been lead to wonder how Freshmen teachers are expected to elect a secretary to MAA within a week of registration when they are still busy finding their way around. If someone was appointed in the spring to inform them of this responsibility, MAA would not be beset with the difficulty of holding meetings without sufficient officers.

BEWARE

For those who hadn't noticed, here is a little warning that this year, when you decide to pull a prank, you are running up against professional opposition, in the form of a Montréal investigation firm. Perhaps this won't stop the pranks, only cause the participants to be more original.

On Sunday, September 24, seven students on campus discussed the possibilities of organizing a group advocating Nuclear Disarmament. The discussion was led by Michel Boyer, a representative of the secretariat of the Combined University Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament (CUCND). It was proposed in this meeting that student opinion on this matter be examined before organizing such a group on campus.

It has been rumored that after the home-coming game with Bishops there will be a tea dance from five on into the evening. This has been the practice at the larger universities such as McGill. However, if there is serious objection the dance will be held as usual, starting at 8:30pm. The Dance Committee promises to have a good band in attendance, and it hopes that the Bishop's team and supporters will stay for the dance.

HAVER'S HEAVEN

On Saturday evening, September 24, Dr. and Mrs. Cecil B. Haver were host to a large number of students from the local campus.

The house, dubbed "Haver's Heaven" by several people who have had the pleasure of seeing it, is located 13 miles West of Ste-Anne, on Highway 17. It is situated beside a small creek and is surrounded by evergreen trees, both of which give that cool atmosphere that everyone dreams of having all summer long.

Entrance to the house is gained by crossing a small walk bridge. Another small suspension bridge is built across the creek at the back of the house.

The structure itself consists of six hexagons, which design makes the roof a hyperbolic paraboloid. Cathedral windows are situated on every side of the house, providing ample lighting at any time of the day. The kitchen has a built-in barbecue and a twenty foot island or bar. One of the striking features of the house is a cantilevered fireplace, which always adds to family pleasure. At the side of the house is a patio, also hexagonal in shape, which overlooks the creek.

The party was a complete success. Of course, it was inevitable that everyone should enjoy themselves knowing of the splendid hospitality of the Havers. The theme was informality, with someone constantly playing the piano and everyone chatting with everyone else about old times.

If the object was to get the college year off to a good beginning, those who attended certainly felt that this mission had been adequately accomplished.

RAIN MAKER

In accordance with its policy of improving its services to the agricultural industry in Québec, Macdonald College has constituted another first for the province. Early in the summer an agricultural weather reporting service, designed to provide an interpretation of the weather as it affects farm operations was set up.

The service provides farmers with a daily picture of the weather and discusses how the weather will influence their work. In order to maintain a complete and up-to-date picture of the agricultural situation, a system of daily telephone contacts with the agronomes has been established in selected areas. This material is combined with the detailed weather forecast and is broadcast each morning, Monday to Friday. The program serves the main farming areas of Southern Québec and is broadcast in both French and English.

Bill Graham, a Mac Grad, is in charge of it and is working in close co-operation with the Meteorological Branch of the Department of Transport at Dorval, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the Québec Department of Agriculture, and the staff of the Faculty of Agriculture at Mac.

The Ottawa-St. Lawrence Intercollegiate Conference begins its '60 football schedule on Oct. 8th. when the Mac Aggies play in Ottawa as guests of St. Patrick's College. This year the Aggie footballers will be revenging the fate of last year's hapless squad who were victims of a single-point overtime defeat in the final contest, giving Loyola Warriors the league title.

The roster to start against the Irishmen in Ottawa appear an impressive lot, as seen from the sidelines during daily practices that started nearly three weeks ago. Much of last year's offensive back-field has returned to the green and gold line-up, such as bulldozers like Dave Fisher and Don Nickless; smooth and speedy Bruce Beatty and Leon Abbott; and zany Dale Munkittrick. As well, new faces such as Brian O'Connor and Bill Mason will supply notable added strength.

A pair of new quarterbacks round out the charge behind the line. Bill Daichun, previously with the McGill Redmen and lefty Bill Mitchell, a Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen (Junior) recruit are presently both calling plays.

Defensively, much of the same gang will be seen fighting off the opposition - stalwarts such as Cotnam, last year's M. V. P.; Strachan; Watson; Carrier; Roht and Davies and a number of rookies to the squad. In the all-important tackle slots, Bruce Walker is back and in fine shape, recollecting his injury-ridden '59 season. Newcomer McGinnis will also be going at tackle.

On the injury note, centre Don Harris is attempting to overcome a hand infection but likely won't be seeing regular action for some weeks, leaving the middle spot with Aussie Carpenter to go both ways. As a result of last Saturday's intersquad game, Cec Welch, a promising new punter will be sidelined for two or three weeks with a broken finger.

On the field, coach Bob Pugh will be opening up with the same split-T as his basic formation with deviations to double flankers.

Almost an entirely new team comprise this year's Mac soccer entry. Of last season's championship squad, the only familiar types of the first eleven are John Courtney and Don Holness. The team has played a single contest to date — a 2-2 draw with Mac High last Saturday. On Oct. 1st. they will be hosting Bishop's University in an exhibition match.

There has been mention of a Junior Varsity Soccer squad this year but due to lack of numbers, the idea may not be realized. It would serve as a wonderful opportunity for some of the lesser stars and would likely be a worthwhile asset in recruiting able types to the Varsity squad. The idea isn't all lost, so if you might like the game, speak with Les Clark, the soccer coach.

For the first time this year Macdonald will be competing in a four-member collegiate tennis loop. The league has been recently organized to include C.M.R., Sir George Williams, Loyola and Macdonald as a means of fostering greater interest in college tennis. On Oct. 1st., Mac will open against the cadets from CMR and the following Saturday, Oct. 8, S.G.W.C. will be tennis guests at Mac. The Annual O.S.L.I.A.A. Tournament will be held at Carleton University, Ottawa with Mac's Raquet squad participating and the following Saturday the 4-team loop continues with Loyola at Macdonald.

Rumour has it that Macdonald may hold a triangular Track Meet on Oct. 8th. if interest warrants. So far S.G.W.C. and McGill have expressed their interest. Another date — the Annual OSLIAA Track Meet will be held on Oct. 22nd. at C.M.R.

From the Men's Athletic Association comes word of a proposed organizational change that will divide men teachers into two groups for interclass competition. With the increased enrolment of men teachers again this year, it has been deemed necessary by M.A.A. to have teachers split if interest is to be maintained in interclass athletics. In line with MAA's foremost commitment — that of maximum participation, the change will offer more teachers the opportunity to play and will also make for a much more competitive schedule. Initiating the action that has been taken on the subject was the formation of a special awards committee set up by the Student's Council to investigate among other things awarding of the Inter-class Shield. The Shield was not awarded last year because there was no uniformity. In allocating points to the

UNLIMITED INTERFERENCE

With the departure of R.M.C.'s intermediate football entry from the Ottawa-St-Lawrence Intercollegiate Athletic Association this year, the Association has been revamped into a four-team eastern division and a three team western division. Previously R.M.C. has fielded two teams for the association, one in each of the two past divisions. With the reorganization, the only existing army squad will compete in the new western division along with Carleton U. and Ottawa U. Simultaneously the eastern division will operate as a four-member loop including Bishop's, Loyola, St. Pat's and Macdonald who will play a home and home six game schedule.

The re-organization will permit, for the first time, an interdivision playoff when regular schedules finish, between the winners of each division. This has been planned as a sudden-death final to serve as the OSLIAA championship contest.

Of interest is that previously the western loop was classified as the 'A' category and the eastern division as the 'B' category, whereas under the new system the divisions are being considered equal in strength and opportunity.

Another change adopted recently by OSLIAA is a new ruling that will permit unlimited interference by all players on all plays starting from scrimmage. The new ruling will doubtlessly make for a more wideopen and possibly higher scoring game. It will be an added strain to the defensive half of the line-up but should make for a more exciting game from the sidelines.

Basketball

The Women's Basketball Referee's Course is under way, with classes every Tuesday and Thursday at 4:30. Men are invited to attend this — they may be coaching girl's basketball some time.

Tennis

Tennis team practices are held every Monday, at 6:30, under the guidance of Miss M. Edger, who is a skilled tennis player herself and also a fine instructress. It seems as if we should have a good team this year. So let's have a better turnout; surely, there are more than eight tennis players in this college. Support your team, come out and have a lot of fun.

Beginners tennis is on Monday, at 4:30, also under the instruction of Miss Edger. Come and learn; be a prospect for next year's team!

The tennis tournaments are now in play, the first round being over. Don't forget to play; a default means — 5 points for your class.

Golf lessons and the Red Cross Swimming Instructors' Course are both going on right now. As you can see, the W. A. A. has started with a variety of sports, one to suit everybody. So use the facilities provided for you, and participate in these activities to make the year a success. Watch the W. A. A. BULLETIN BOARD in Laird Hall and the one at the entrance to Stewart Hall from the foyer for further notices.

Soccer

Starting last week soccer began, practices being held every Tuesday and Thursday, at 6:30 p.m. There was a large turnout so that it appears that under the fine instruction and supervision of Miss Walker we ought to have a good season. Games are scheduled to be played against McGill, Hudson High and MacDonald High.

Mixed Swimming

Every Wednesday at 4:30 to 5:30 there will be mixed swimming in the Women's Pool in Stewart Hall. In previous years this has proved to be great fun, so let's make it a success this year. Remember, it's a co-educational activity!
